SUMMARY

The LSESU Accounting and Finance Society serves as the is a recently revitalised society which has massive ambition. We believe the society has the potential to be even larger than it currently is and to have great gravitas on campus.

We aim to implement industry-specific skill programmes, diversity initiatives, mentoring facilities, and more to augment the variety of opportunities already present at the society.

This is your opportunity to advertise your brand on campus to the whole cohort of LSE.

AT A GLANCE

We are the LSESU Accounting and Finance Society. The society has been relatively docile in the recent past and we have grandiose plans of improvement.

Currently, we are in our growth stage. The stage where we need to make idea into reality and to do that, we need the help of industry leading names. We are reaching out to you to pitch you our sponsorship packages and inform you about the benefits that come with each package.

We are a large society and work very closely with the faculty to get things done

HIGHLIGHTS

- We have over 100 members
    - This in itself is a underrepresentation as during COVID-19 society membership saw a decline
- We have a unique relationship with our faculty and department and our objectives are extremely aligned.
- We have a strong group of leaders at the helm of the society who have big plans to execute.
- We are one of the most diverse clubs/faculties with 42 nationalities over our whole A&F undergrad cohort
- We also have access to students from other course as many students take accounting as part of their course.

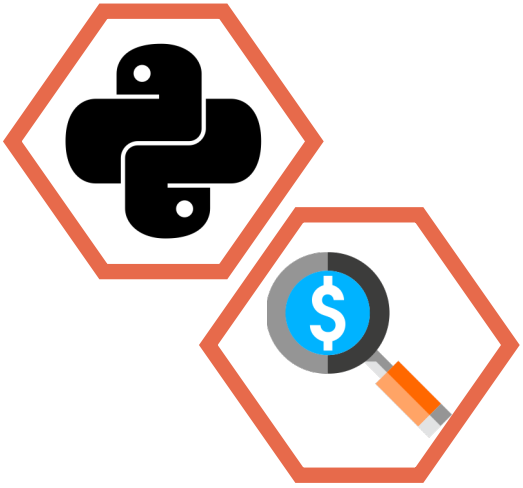
PYTHON FOR ACCOUNTING



We believe that programming is now a fundamental skill and should be compulsory at school along with Maths and English. In the coming year, we aim to implement a python course focussed specifically on using Python for Accounting.

We will use packages like OpenPyXL to effectively provide an API for excel. We will use the Alpaca and Yahoo APIs to allow us to pull all relevant financial information from their services for our own manipulation.

This will give our members an unprecedented edge when it comes to their productivity in anything they do and, as a sponsor, you would be making your presence known.

FIRM CASE STUDY COMPETITION

We will be holding a case study competition where members will be challenged to produce an in depth financial and managerial analysis on any company of their choice. There will be prizes for the winners and maybe even the possibility that we could collaborate with a sponsor to bring in a few judges from said sponsor to help "grade the papers".

As you can see, there is a natural progression here which closely follows our beliefs as a society: provide the fundamental tools (in this case we would preface the competition with the teaching of Python) and allow people the freedom to be creative in their work. This way we are able to maximise potential.

MENTORSHIP & OUTREACH

The bottom line is that we care about our fellow students. That's why we offer academic, mental, and career support to our members and faculty. We know university can be an intimidating place and we try to help out in any way we can.

We also want to start doing more outreach because we have a duty to give back to the community.

MENTORSHIP

We provide mentorship schemes.

SAM

We will partner with the faculty to our Student Academic Mentor (SAM) scheme more efficiently. Mentors are allocated a group of new students to allow for an approachable way to find out information regarding all aspects of university

JOB RELATED

We take great interest in the success of our peers and as such utilise experienced society members to help run job related programming where necessary. This includes preparation for Spring and Summer internships. We also will be giving workshops on prepping for assessment centres and giving practice interviews. This is also a good opportunity for students to get information directly from our sponsors on what exactly they are looking for, allowing us to give our faculty members an edge.

ACADEMIC

We offer great academic support to our members by having drop-in sessions to help clarify coursework and provide an easy place to revise and ask for help.

OUTREACH

We want to give back. That's why in the coming academic year, we aim to partner with local London school to provide a pro-bono tutoring service to underprivileged kids. We think it's so important that every school pupil gets the attention the deserve and we want to be here to provide it.

A great way to collaborate with our sponsors would be to get involved in their outreach programmes. This would allow students to branch out of campus while providing a positive impact and giving back to the community. If you like the sound of this, please don't hesitate to suggest a collaboration on outreach programmes that you offer.

WHY SPONSOR?

We provide an entry point for your firm to build its brand on campus.

You should note that we have over 100 members but this number is not representative our full operating capacity as, due to the past year, LSESU societies saw a decrease in membership. We are certain that going into the next academic year that we will enter a period of membership growth and, moreover, societal growth.

The final important point is accessing our talent. We are closely linked with the Accounting faculty and thus essentially provide you access to all undergrad and postgrads, even ones who are not society members

HOW YOU BENEFIT

As your main entry point to LSE, collaborating with us will give you prime access to our membership base:

Entry point into talent

Being a sponsor gives you an unprecedented foothold within the accounting faculty of LSE due to the unique symbiotic relationship between society and faculty that isn't often seen in university societies. You will have access to the faculty's cohort; that cohort being one of the most talented pool of individuals – there is a reason LSE grads have the highest average salary.

Sizable society which champions excellence

XYZ Firm wants to attract the highest quality students. Given that positions on our committee and on many of our initiatives are done on a selective basis, our highest quality students are the ones will persistently be exposed to your brand. We will also priorities you when looking for keynote speakers for events and we will have recruiting events specifically for {firm_name}. These two things are a great way to get recognition among the faculty

We will connect you with students in a meaningful way and add value to your recruitment pipeline. You will have the ability to communicate with the whole faculty.
